NOTES AND COMMENTS.

From a paragraph appearing in a very recent issue of Indian Engineering it is evident that the Hongkong Sanitary Board is not the only department of its peculiar kind that puzzles one to comprehend what justification there can possibly be for the continuance of its existence—as at present constituted. According to our Calcutta contemporary the Sanitary Board of Burma (presumably this department is wholly the fountain-head of the whole of the sanitary affairs of the province of Burma), which "only exists in name, and whose efforts or consultations in the cause of sanitation no one hears about, appears still to be considering the scheme for obtaining the services of a Sanitary Engineer, proposed five years back.

Their excuse, when this body was first constituted, was that the Municipalities were too poor to bear any extra expense, but now that the official records prove the contrary, there is no reason for further delay. That is an Indian Government Sanitary Board muddle, and it represents a very objectionable state of affairs. Bad as it is, however, we can go one better in Hongkong. In this Colony the Sanitary Board has been appealing for a Medical Officer of Health, who should be at its direct disposal, for at least six years, and it seems as far off getting one as ever it will.

And at the present time not only is it minus the services of a suitable Medical Officer, but it is almost wholly composed of officials whose antiquated red-tape methods of procedure, whose insane strickling for forms, is fast rendering it the laughing-stock of almost all the residents of the Colony, who are not slow to perceive that the last stage of this Board is far worse than the first. In view of the impending water famine and the Sanitary difficulties inseparable therefrom, would it not be well were the ratepayers to bestir themselves while yet there is time?

We read in the Edinburgh Scotman of the 12th ultimo that in the early part of last month the Church Missionary Society telegraphed to Archdeacon Wolfe at Foochow to inquire which of the fourteen missionaries appointed to sail for that mission this autumn might now be safely and conveniently sent. The reply was received—"All come." This, says the Scotman, "apparently means that the Fukien province is quiet, and that any stations which may have been temporarily left can at once be reoccupied. The Society, however, proposes still to detain the ladies of the party, who would be new to China, until further assurances come to warrant their being sent." Archdeacon Wolfe may have meant well when he wired "all come," but could he have paused to consider what might happen in the interim between the despatch of the fourteen inexperienced missionaries and their arrival at Foochow? We are bound to doubt it, for if he did then it is clear that he is not gifted with anything like the amount of foresight which is generally placed to his credit. Of course, if this batch of well-meaning innocents, including several ladies, were intended to be attached to the Mission's Foochow establishment only for the next year or two one cannot regard the policy of their trusted agent in South China in a very serious light, but if it was proposed to expose the ladies to the fearful, and unheeded, risks run by their unfortunate sisters who were so ruthlessly slain at Kucheng only the other day, then we cannot refrain from expressing surprise. We are very glad to learn that the London Committee of the Mission has exercised that discretion which is recognised as the better part of valour, and has decided to at least keep the young ladies at home. Archdeacon Wolfe's cry is "Send all!" The Scotman

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Telegraph's cry is—REMEMBER KUCHENG!
We hope to hear no more of innocent and well-meaning young ladies being sent into the interior of China until the anarchy now rampant throughout the length and breadth of the Empire is superseded by the dawn of a much-needed era of peace, and a suitable guarantee has been obtained from the Central Government that it will without fail give due effect for all time to the provisions of the treaties concluded with the Great Powers. It would be something worse than mere folly to allow inexperienced young ladies to go into the interior of China under the present circumstances of our relations with this ill-governed Empire, and until those relations are vastly improved it is to be hoped that the heads of missionary societies will refrain from action which might, by any possibility, result in precipitating fresh disasters. Let us have one account properly settled before we attempt to run up a new score.

SHOCKING MARITIME DISASTER.

FATAL EXPLOSION ON A CHINA
COASTER.

SIX HUNDRED PEOPLE KILLED!

SHANGHAI, October 17th.

5.50 p.m.

News has just reached here of one of the most shocking maritime disasters of recent times. It is to the effect that an explosion occurred yesterday on board the China Merchant's steamer Kunghak, which was carrying a large number of Chinese troops.

The explosion occurred when the ill-fated steamer was near Kuchow, and the brief information received states that no less than six hundred persons were killed.

Whether the steamer's boilers exploded is not stated, but as the vessel was known to have a large quantity of powder on board it is possible that this terribly fatal explosion is due to the carelessness of some of the "braves," who invariably smoke pipes and cigarettes when on board ship.

It is not yet known whether the European Captains, officers and engineers are included in the death-roll, but it is hardly likely that all of them could have escaped.

REUTERS'S TELEGRAM.

TURKEY AND THE POWERS.

LONDON, October 15th.

The Sultan accepts the Armenian reforms in principle, but declines to put them in force at the moment because it would appear that he was yielding to pressure.

Under these circumstances the outlook is considered in Constantinople as more hopeful.

THE REVOLT IN CUBA.

Numerous reports have been received of conflicts between the royal troops and the insurgents in Cuba, and one and all agree that the rebels have been invariably defeated since the reinforcements arrived.

The Chief of the revolutionary party, named Amago, has been shot.

THE CORTES.

It is believed the decree for dissolution of the Cortes will not be issued for some time, and that the Liberals will therefore remain in power until the revolution in Cuba has been completely suppressed, after which the Cortes will be invited to elect representatives in the usual way.

An emergency meeting of Zetland Lodge, No.
525, E.C., will be held in the Freemasons' Hall, Zealand Street, this evening, at 8.30 for 9 o'clock precisely. Visiting brethren are cordially invited.

The Criminal Sessions will be held to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock, by Sir Fielding Clarke, Chief Justice. The only case before the Sessions will be the attempted murder in Stutton Street, Chun Hoi-mun being charged with feloniously cutting and wounding with intent to do grievous bodily harm.

The Hon. Secretary of the Hongkong Public Library notifies that his Excellency the Governor has kindly consented to preside at a meeting to be held in the City Hall on Monday next, the 21st instant, at 5.15 p.m., when statements will be made with regard to the present position and the prospects of the Library. All subscribers are requested to attend.

THIS morning the Tanier was shifted to new moorings in the harbour where, it is understood, she will probably remain for years while serving the purpose of a receiving-ship, the Victor Emmanuel which has been placed on the retired list for ever and ever, and if we are correctly informed, not before it was absolutely necessary to dispose with her services.

The barque Wm. Le Eschaur, which for years past has figured off and on in the shipping returns of this port, having been sold to Chinese who failed to make it pay to run her in Eastern seas, she has now been disposed of to some Cantonese boat-builders who had her towed up to Canton, to be there broken up, last night.

Her late owner realized $8,000 only for this grand old barque. She is a gift at the price.

The British steamer Sithan, Captain Murphy, reports that whilst on the voyage from Swatow to Saigon, and in Lat. 10.55 N., Lon. 114 deg. E., she sighted a dismasted junk. She bore down on her and rescued the crew of 10 Chinese, who were in a very exhausted condition. They had been adrift for eight days, having been caught in a typhoon on the 26th ult; when their junk was completely dismasted. When picked off they had been three days without water and could not have survived much longer. They were kindly taken care of by Captain Murphy and on arrival in Saigon, Messrs. Dan Soon An, the Agents for Messrs. Brady & Co., raised a subscription amongst the resident Chinese which will enable them to reach their homes, in Chiaoche, to the north of Amoy. They are still on board the Sithan and will probably be sent on from Hongkong. The junk, being a dangerous derelict, was scuttled and set on fire.

OUR Yokohama contemporary, the Daily Advertiser, points out in a recent issue that Russia is waiting no time in garnering what profits she can from the newly acquired interests of China, and that she has now established a route of trade with Manchuria along the course of the river Sungwha as far as Kirin. It asserts that the report of Mr. Vladivostok, the Japanese commercial agent at Vladivostok, now for the work of opening up Manchuria to Russian trade was successfully enforced upon last summer, when, at the suggestion of the Governor-General of the district along the "Chang-ching" an expedition was sent up the Sungwha river. This expedition was headed by a Russian merchant named Baklanoff and a naturalized Chinaman named Chee Ton-tai, who conjointly sent up some 15,000 rubles worth of general cargo on lighters that were towed by a steam launch chartered from the Hei-Lung-Kiang Steamship Co.
The boats were consigned to Kirin, and as the Governor-General who inspired the enterprise had secured the co-operation of the Russian Minister in Peking, the latter had induced the Chinese Central Government to instruct the local authorities along the Sungwha to give all necessary assistance to the peaceful squadron. "The result was that the expedition was treated royally everywhere, and the cargo carried was bartered for native produce under the most favorable circumstances, the staples of trade being obtainable at prices one third lower than those demanded in the Ussuri district, and all import and export duties were exempted by the Chinese officials. The flotilla returned to Barok after a trip of forty days, during which it had turned over 15 per cent. in profits. Another expedition was to be started before the end of the current year.

One of the members of the Victorian Ministry, while on a short visit to Sydney, before leaving for Melbourne the other day told a newspaper representative that the question of Australian Federation was a live one with Victorians, that it was lifted above the sordid surroundings of market considerations, but that there was still a howl in the path, and that was the difficulty of "reconciling" communities federating with a freestade one. While Mr. Duffy, for such is the Sydney chief in Melbourne was being interviewed by a deputation from the Australian Federation League, and he was urged to introduce the Federal Enabling Bill agreed upon at the Hobart Conference of Premiers. Mr. Turner, in his reply to the deputation, said nothing about a "reconciling" of communities federating with a freestade one, and so far as he is concerned, the free-trade policy of New South Wales is apparently no obstacle whatever to the consummation of the national partnership. The Victorian Premier, indeed, said nothing about any obstacles at all. He referred, it is true, to the question of precedence in regard to legislative action, but that is neither here nor there. There was a sort of understanding "all" the recent Conference of Premiers that the New South Wales Parliament might take the lead and pass the Bill first, and that all the other Legislatures might follow; but that was not at all
